The Educated Trout.

During the visit of President Arthur to Louisville in August he was presented a handsome fishing reel made expressly for him by Mr. B. F. Meek, formerly of this city, and while in the Yellow Stone Park it was used by the President in fishing for trout, which prompted a writer in the Chicago News to get off the following:

The morning sun in splendor shone On the yellow park at the Yellowstone. The President at the break of day Had packed his duds and moved away. A brave fisherman chief came out With his willow pole to fish for trout. It was half past 8 when he cast his line, And he kept on fishing till half past 9; And then he baited his hook again, And patiently fished until half past 2— The meanwhile awaiting a powerful sight For fishing all day with tarry bait. And he swore and fished, and fished an swore Till his Blighn waded half past 4. When a big fat trout came swimming by And winked at the chief with his eyes, "And do you reckon, you pagan soul, You can catch as trout with a willow pole? The President caught as manners while He fished for as the latest size willow pole. You've no idea how proud we feel To be jerked ashore with a Frankfort reel." The red man gathered his dinner pail And started home by the shortest trail, And told his faithful squaw he guess'd They'd better move still farther West. Where Presidents don't come fooling about, Turning the heads of the glidy trout.

Bloomington.

Mr. D. Glanton has refused an offer of $1 per bushel for his crop of winter apples now tell us what pays better in this country than an orchard like Mr. Glanton's.

Leave, this leave me not alone, seems to be a favorite song with one young gentleman of our acquaintance, since a certain young lady of this neighborhood left for school in Owen county.

Not to know the location of our beautiful Bloomington, argues oneself unknown. Only a few days ago, a study of your city (Frankfort) who seems to be well informed on almost any other subject—asked your correspondent, the question, where in Bloomington?

Mr. W. F. Smith who is attending College at Lexington, came down on a visit to his parents Friday evening and remained until Monday morning. The sun seems to shine more brilliant, and the birds warble sweeter songs when he is with us. Come often. We are always glad to see you, William.

Mr. Thomas I. Yount living some three or four miles north of the place is the owner of a pig now some three weeks old, that has natural and well defined ear marks. A swallow fork in the left, and split in the right ear. Mr. Yount says these marks are enough to identify by knife. The pig is in good health and can be seen by the curiously inclined at any time by calling on Mr. Yount at his farm.

The next will be Franklin county's time to furnish the senator for this 24th senatorial district. Several gentlemen have already been mentioned as probable candidates, among them Gen. Scott Brown, Hon. John L. Sneed and Hon. Thos. W. Scott. With either of these gentlemen in the seat, Col. R. L. M. Major, or Gen. John Rodman in the lower house, couldn't we boast of a team that would be difficult to duplicate.

Well, Mollie seems to have had linen as well as her feelings rumpled—judging from the manner in which she comes back at our civil engineer. Mr. Woodson may and in our judgement does know how to make plans and specifications for roads, bridges etc., but it is his judgment in any gentleman to raise the ire of one of these fair ones. God bless them we love them all alike, but we have long since learned to steer clear of one when she is angry.

We are glad to note and doubtless the consumers of coal in the city of Frankfort and vicinity will be glad to know that our fellow citizen E. C. Woodson, Esq., will, within the next 30 days open a coal yard in the City of Frankfort. The location of which has not been definitely settled as yet, but we now bespeak for him a liberal share of the trade from the good people of Frankfort and Franklin county. (Amphill Steele is the synonym of honesty, while he has been wrecked in fortune his good name for integrity and fair dealing stands intact and unimpaired). He is a gentleman with whom it is pleasant to transact business. Success to you, Captain, is the voice of all your Bloomington friends.

Bridgeport.

Perseverance next in order. The apple core is about all gathered. The John Jenkins has the boss callage. Quite a severe storm passed over this place Monday afternoon. We understand it did considerable damage in the Farndale neighborhood.

Mr. Winn, of Columbus, was in town Sunday.

A protracted meeting will commence at South Benson Church to-morrow.

The meeting at the Graefenberg Baptist Church is still in progress, and great interest is manifested.

We are convinced more and more each day, by actual experience, that compulsory education is right.

Mr. R. D. Armstrong, wife and son, Chester, and W. H. Hawkins took in the Exposition last week.

We inadvertently omitted the name of Lena Roberts in our list as on the roll of honor of Bridgeport school.

Mrs. Terrell, wife of Prof. J. O. Terrell, of Hopkinsville, was in town Monday; the guest of Mrs. Rosa Jenkins.

Charlie Parent and family and Mrs. Emily Parent visited his brother, J. Keane Parent, in Shelby county last week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Jenkins were called to the bedside of their niece, little Miss Rosa Likent, in Shelby county, Tuesday, whose death is hourly expected.

Roll of honor of Bridgeport school for the two weeks ending Nov. 24: Lena Roberts, Samuella Crockett, John Brown, Lucy Brown, Sallie Brantley, Alice Wilson.

A party consisting of Misses Bettie Wilson, Bettie McWilliams, and Meers, Wm. Seefeld, Churchill Bailey, G. W. Hall, Tuvler Parent and Otto Wheat took in the Exposition this week.

Misses Kate Jenkins and Alma Scofield attended the funeral of their cousin, Miss Nannie Jenkins, in Shelbyville Saturday. Nannie was a dear good girl, having the esteem and respect of all who knew her. The many friends and relatives in this vicinity deeply sorrow with the bereaved family.

Antioch.

Rev. J. C. B. Stivers, of New York, is visiting his mother at this place.

Miss Jennie Grier returned home Wednesday from a visit to Louisville.

Mr. Fred. Smith and his bride left Tuesday for a visit to relatives in Paris.

Miss Kate Finnel, of Frankfort, visited her sister, Mrs. Updyke, Sunday.

No great damage was done by the storm Monday afternoon that we have heard of.

Mr. Carter Hale and family, of Belle Point, spent Sunday with Mr. James Gloré.

Mr. J. E. Fears and Mr. White, of Stoner Creek, were at the singing Monday and Tuesday nights.

There will be quite a large delegation from this neighborhood to attend the Exposition on Saturday, the 3d.

The whooping cough is making its way slowly but surely in this section. Mr. Pete Updyke's children have it now.

Married.—At Antioch Church, Oct. 25th, by Rev. L. P. Hulet, Mr. A. J. Singleton, of Frankfort, and Miss Mary Cook.

The singing class have had a grand time for more than a week. On the night of the 25th they met at Mrs. Walston's, on the 26th at Mr. Jno. Moore's; on Monday night at Mr. James Gloré's and on Tuesday night at Mr. Wm. Polgrowsky's. At the last three named places they had a nice treat, and at Mr. Gloré's they had, in addition to the singing, music on the autoharp.

A large crowd assembled at Antioch Church Sunday night to witness the marriage of Mr. Fred Smith and Miss Belle Arnold, Rev. J. K. Polk South officiating. The following persons were among the visitors: Mrs. Frank Thompson, of Paris, Mr. L. L. Conway and Miss Kittie Conway, of Frankfort, Mrs. John Quire, Mr. and Mrs. Doc Arnold, of Belle Point.

Belle Point.

Miss Nannie Stivers, after a pleasant visit of several weeks to friends in Louisville, has returned home.

Miss Nannie Noel, of Bloomington, and Misses Fannie and Mary Forsee, of Prank's Mill, are the guests of the family of Mr. J. W. Gaines this week.

The meeting of the Sunday-school teachers will be held at the residence of Col. J. N. Critcher, next Friday night at 7 o'clock. A full attendance is desired.

The enterprising and liberal citizens living on Benson street are determined to have that avenue illuminated and to that end have subscribed money enough to put up two or more lamps.

The meeting of the Sunday-school teachers at the residence of Mrs. Brannon last night was well attended, and besides the transaction of business beneficial to the Sunday-school several new songs were learned.

Miss Lena Rogers presided at the organ.

Mr. A. B. Hammond, "T. M. F.," the polite and accommodating book-keeper of W. L. Pence, is in charge of the branch yard at Lexington, during the absence of Mr. Sid. K. King, who has gone to the Exposition. Mr. H. was expected home yesterday.

It is gratifying to our citizens to see the floor on the Railroad Bridge progressing again. The company have been very dilatory in replacing this floor, and it has been a source of great inconvenience to the citizens of the north end of the county. We suppose the demagogical gentlemen who were so opposed to the convicts improving the boulevard are satisfied now when they see the miserable condition this thoroughfare is in.

No matter how jaded the constitution may be from disease or excess, the Great German Invigorator restores it permanently. See advertisement. For sale by Joe LeCompte.

FRANKFORT ROUNDABOUT.

Entered at the post-office at Frankfort, Kentucky as second class mail matter.

GEORGE A. LEWIS.
Editor and Publisher.

FRANKFORT, NOVEMBER 3, 1883.

Please bear in mind that the blue pencil mark X on your paper indicates that the time for which you have paid has expired and you are requested to call around and settle.

"Now comes the dreary November."

The Women's Christian Temperance Union will meet at the Presbyterian Church next Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Our citizens will read with pleasure the announcement in our Bloomington letter that Mr. Campbell Steele will shortly open a coal yard in this city.

Dr. T. H. Hudson and wife were the other side of Lawrenceburg on their way to this city in a buggy, Monday afternoon, and got the full benefit of the storm.

The heavy wind and rain storm which visited us on Monday did great damage in Lawrenceburg, destroying a number of business and warehouses and blowing down trees.

We are requested to call the attention of the police to the fact that rows are becoming very frequent in Crow both day and night, and they are requested to drop around occasionally.

Hattie Lane, who was given one year in the Penitentiary in the Circuit Court last week, for stealing Mr. Harrod's pocket-book, has been granted a new trial on Wednesday, and acquitted.

Mr. Frank Hookersmith, of this county, who was so badly burned in the railroad explosion at Winchester several months ago, has compromised with the Railroad Companies for $3,500 and expenses.

Coal is selling at twelve and a half cents a bushel at Port Royal. It does not cost so very much to tow barges from there up here and we certainly ought to get it here for something near that figure.

A year or two ago some one borrowed Messrs. Whitesides & McEwan's wheelbarrow and forgot to return it. He neglected to take the wheelbarrow along with it, and as they have been laying around in the way ever since, he is requested to call and get them also.

We are under obligations to Mrs. H. S. Bann for a nice basket of peas and snap beans grown in her garden, which she sent us yesterday. Although they were labeled "the last of the season," they were as nice and fresh as if they were the first products of the year, and were splendid.

Mr. Chris. C. Merchant, while under the influence of liquor, attempted to cross the Railroad bridge on the cross ties, the floor being torn up, and had not gone more than twenty feet from this end when he fell through to the ground below, a distance of 30 feet, breaking his jaw bone and three ribs, and bruising himself up badly. He was doing well at last accounts.

Some of the most beautiful specimens of Kensington and silk embroidery we have ever seen are displayed in the window of Messrs. Crutcher & Starks. The ladies should all go and examine them; they are well worth seeing. They were executed by Mrs. E. A. Tipton, who will give lessons in the art to any lady desiring instruction. She can be found at the Capital Hotel.

Christmas Presents.

Messrs. Harris & Herrmann, the enterprising proprietors of the great Arcade, will, on the 31st of December, present to their customers a $500 piano, a nickel-plated $75 cooking range, and a handsome oil walnut bed-room set of furniture worth $100. Read their advertisement and you will learn all the particulars.

At a meeting of a committee of the Southern Wing of the Presbyterian Church held in this city Saturday morning, it was determined to erect a brick building, 30 by 50 feet on the rear of the lot on the corner of Third and Shelby streets, owned by the church, to be used as a lecture-room, and steps will be taken at once to establish a church organization in this city. Rev. Dr. E. O. Guerrant will preach for the congregation for the first year.

During the storm of Monday afternoon the barn of Mr. William Morris, near Alton, was blown down, his hay stacks upset, and his house moved out of its position on its foundation.

Mr. J. W. Tester will open a pawnbroker's shop and loan office in the room in Mrs. Bohannon's building, near the St. Clair street bridge, lately occupied by Messrs. Harris & Drylows.

Mr. Taylor G. Daily was handling a pistol carelessly Thursday night when it slipped from his hand to the floor and went off, the ball taking effect in his foot and inflicting a painful wound.

Mr. J. M. Gregory having found photographing rather unprofitable in this city, has gone to Louisville to reside, and Mr. Will. J. Malkinson, of Louisville, has taken his gallery and will continue the business.

The store-rooms in the City Hall building are advertised in this issue for lease. As they are very desirable business rooms there will be lively competition for them. We understand that a party in Cincinnati is desirous of obtaining both of them.

Our citizens are not taking advantage of the Sunday mails to any extent. Both the eastern and western mails close at four and a half o'clock in the afternoon, and both are very light, while during the hour the office is kept open—from four to five—very few persons call for their mail.

Messrs. Wakefield & Chant will begin rebuilding their planing mill the first of the week. It will be constructed of corrugated iron and made as near fire proof as possible. Mr. J. M. Wakefield will not remind his saw-mill just yet, but will have it ready for work by spring. It will also be built of corrugated iron.

A company of gentlemen in Louisville are thinking of purchasing the privilege of supplying water to our citizens from the city, and on Thursday Mr. Grant Green, Jr., made a survey of the city for them, for the purpose of ascertaining the best point upon which to locate a new reservoir, and the probable cost of construction.

The bids for the lease of the new opera house were opened on Tuesday night by the City Council, and that of Mr. A. C. Wood, of Winchester, being the highest he was awarded the lease. The following were the bids received: A. C. Wood, $1,005; M. E. Jett, $800; Guy Barrett, $721; Brian & Weitzel, $600; J. B. Dryden, $500; V. Kaltenbrun, $400.

On Thursday night Officer John Dean succeeded in capturing a colored chicken thief in South Frankfort by the name of Moses Bracken. He had ten chickens with him when taken, all of which he had killed. There were two of them together, but the other one was fleet footed and made good his escape, his steps being hastened by a shot from the officer's pistol.

Mr. Wiley Shaw, of this city, and Miss Laura Downs, of Fayette county, were married at the residence of the bride's parents, near Yarnallton, Wednesday morning. They passed down on the 2:27 train en route to Louisville, the same afternoon, but returned to this city yesterday and were given an entertainment at the residence of the groom's father, Mr. John R. Shaw.

Masonic Notice.

There will be a called meeting of Esoteric Lodge, No. 532, to-night, at 7 o'clock, for work in the E. A. degree. A full attendance of the members is desired and visiting brothers are cordially invited to be present.

JAS. A. MCCRAY, W. M.

ONCAR HERRMANN, Sec'y.

A Card.

Editor Roundabout:

If the man signing himself "Mollie," who has seen fit to make a personal attack upon me without any apparent cause, has a spark of manliness or any common sense of decency about him, will appear in your next issue under his true name, I promise to give to the public, without resorting to low personalities, satisfactory answers to any charges he may make, or expiation to any matter he may prefer pertaining to my profession, and correct the malicious misrepresentations of myself and work.

When I wrote my first card I was prompted purely by the desire to get rid of the next end, and although I did not invite a controversy then I now extend to him an invitation to come out in his den and meet me on a level of manhood, common to all men of principle and honor.

The grand jury, at the close of its labors last week, made the following report to the Court. The compliment to Capt. Todd it contains was just and well-merited. Since he has been in charge of the Penitentiary not a word of complaint has been heard from any source with regard to the conduct of that institution:

To the Hon. P. U. Major, Judge of the Frankfort Circuit Court:

Sir: The grand jury having finished all the work it found to do, would respectfully ask to make this final report and be discharged.

Our session has been somewhat prolonged but we have endeavored to do our duty fairly and faithfully. Much might be said in this connection, but we deem it acceptable to be brief.

We visited the Penitentiary and found it in a condition to elicit admiration and praise. Under the administration of Captain Todd the institution seems to have undergone a change as radical and complete as its wholesome and commendable. But our jail. What a disgrace to the county! What a burlesque on civilization! What a stench in the nostrils of Christianity! It is no fault of the jailer. He does his duty well.
